

He really believed it.

A group of my friends once convinced another friend that a week in London really was eight days.

(That was when we were all young...before the internet.)

one believes the heart with

Romans 10:10

Verse from the NET Bible

Why not ask God to touch your HEART and help you believe.

It is the only way.

The kind of believing God is offering is not like that at all. It is NOT something anyone can do without God's help.